

Alpine Ascents Expedition to Mount Everest Camp II

There is something magical following in Hillary and Norgay's footsteps up the slopes of Everest...

The team takes a break at the top of the Khumbu Icefall on the way to Camp I.

Alpine Ascents pioneered guiding on Everest 20 years ago and today we remain the leader in offering high quality expeditions. An ascent to Camp II is a unique opportunity to experience climbing through the Khumbu Icefall and the Western CWM to our Advanced Base Camp at the base of the South West Face of Everest. (21,500 ft).

One must have strong skills and be in very good physical condition to take on our Camp II expedition.

Team members experience climbing through some very challenging & notable aspects of Everest, and get first hand experience of what it takes to climb this great peak, as you are traveling much of the same route as our Everest summit team. This is an excellent opportunity to see if a future Everest climb is right for you or simply a chance to climb part of this legendary peak.

As always Alpine Ascent teams will be led by Veteran Everest guides, our legendary Sherpa climbing staff while providing the foremost in logistics and base camp facilities. Our unique team approach to climbing the mountain has allowed us to continually operate successful expeditions while maintaining an excellent safety record.
